Baronial Missive

In the realm of Faerie, it was lately given out that Baron Creag and Baroness Morwenna did wish to pass on their noble office, and enjoy the well-earned rest of ease and retirement. And so they did step down, and their Gracious Majesties Draco and Asa did duly take the coronets into their keeping. It then did please them to pass on this joyous burden in their turn, to ourselves, Lachlahn and Jane.

And so, mindful of the honour and obligation laid upon us, we did willingly step up, and we here pen our first missive unto the populace of fair Aneala.

With great wonder and amazement did we witness the many marvels of that night in the lands of the Faerie, and it pleased us well to see the many talents of our populace in such sumptuous display. The Arts and Sciences in Aneala have truly prospered, and we mean to enable and encourage their continued growth. As many of you will be aware, it has been our intention to set up a regular Arts and Sciences evening each Tuesday in a central location, and we anticipate that these evenings will commence at UWA from the first Tuesday of October.

Many events are afoot in Aneala, following hard upon the heels of our investiture. We presently await the coming contest to decide the next champions of Sword, Bow and Rapier. We look forward to witnessing the skill and courage of the combatants upon the field, and to naming the victors as our new Champions. In addition, we are most happy to be able to support and appreciate the hospitality of the incipient Shire as it hosts its Newcomers' Feast in Balingup this weekend. We look forward to seeing many of you there.

We were well pleased to see such a good turnout for the September Baronial Council meeting, the first to take place in the new location on College grounds. We encourage as many people as possible to attend Council, and have your say in the business of the Barony. In a similar vein, several of our officers, having served with distinction for the duration of their warrants, are seeking new gentles to fill their posts. We know that there are many capable lords and ladies within our Barony, and we feel sure that our retiring officers may confidently hand over their warrants in the knowledge that they will be well discharged.

And so good gentles let us leave you with this thought, as the winds of change blow, they bring opportunity with them, and it behooves us all to seize our chances to prosper.

Yours In Service,

Lachlahn
Baron

Jane
Baroness

The Seneschal's Rant

Greetings all,

Just a short one from me this month <(yay you all say)
Was a good council at the new venue of UWA and some good stuff going to Happen.

Championship is next and while now a dry site, should still be a lot of fun. Go talk to Catherine she has the booking book.

By the time this comes out the Shire tourney and feast will have happened. I hope it went as well as the previous.

CALLING FOR BIDS for 12th night. Have a hankering to run a a nice feast thingy step on up.

Also there are some really cool things happening with the demo pack and with PR stuff. If you have ideas on how we can do things please go chat to Nyssa.

till next month, be safe
Yours in service
Ruirghein

From the Baron and Baroness of Aneala…

Aneala Wants YOU!

For the past couple of years their have been some amongst us whom we all may thank for maintining the essential offices of our fair Barony. The task of serving as an officer of Aneala is a role less public than our own but no less vital for the welfare of the group. A number of our current officers have served out the duration of their warrants, and in some cases even longer. It is with this in mind that we extend our thanks as we seek new gentles to fill the following offices:

Chatelaine - Fenissa - 0422 144 070.
Stores loaner gear and welcomes new people

Chronicler - Kerridwen - 0412 523 872
Produces monthly newsletter

Constable - Fenissa - 0422 144 070.
In charge of signing people in to events

Herald - Rhianwen - 9314 2506
Makes announcements at events and helps to register Names and Devices.

Marshal - Nathan - 9249 5670
Oversees the safety of all combat related activities.

Deputy Listkeeper - Matthew - 0415 400 722
Responsible for running and recording tournament lists

If you are interested in any of these roles please contact the appropriate officer to discuss this further.

Lachlahn — Baron

Jane — Baroness.

Guilds

Guilds are groups of people with an interest in a particular area of the arts and sciences. Some organise regular competitions, some organise projects for the Kingdom, some have voluntary ranking systems which you might want to try out.

The following guilds are represented in Aneala:

The Royal Guild of Defence for the combat with civilian weapons, see Catalina da Gata.

The College of Scribes for calligraphy and illumination, see Muirghein ni Ghrainne.

The Guild of the Silver Rondel for dancing and playing music for dancing, see Catherine de Arc.

The Worshipful Company of Broiderers for embroidery, see Muirghein ni Ghrainne.

Arts & Sciences

The Guild of Cooks for cooking & non-alcoholic beverages, see Master Kilic. sb315098@bigpond.net.au

The Tailors, Haberdashers and Mercers Guild for the making of garments and accessories, see Catalina da Gata.

The Brewers, Vintners and Imbibers Guild for alcoholic beverages, see Healfdene Greymaneson.

The Fibre Guild for spinning, weaving, felting, and braiding, see Catherine de Arc.

The Herb and Garden Guild for gardening and herbalism, see Alessandra Torrigiani d'Arezzo.
karenh@eyllene.uwa.edu.au

There are other guilds in Lochac that are not active in Aneala at the moment:
The Entertainers Guild
The Painters and Limners Guild
The Woodworkers Guild

For more information on these guilds see the contact person listed, your friendly local arts and sciences minister, or http://www.sca.org.au/lochac/groups/guilds.html.
