From the Baron & Baroness

Unto the populace of fair Aneala do Lachlahn and Jane send greetings .

It appears that the stormclouds of war have once again overshadowed our merry proceedings. Should the dispute between Their Majesties remain unsettled, His Excellency shall once again be taking up arms on the battlefields of Rowany Festival. For our part, we hope for the best and that the matter may be soon resolved to the satisfaction of all.

If Fortune does indeed favour us, and bring the safe return of His Excellecy as she has before, then the festivites of the Barony shall recommence in earnest, beginning in the balmy days of May, with the auctioning of our fighters for honour and profit. Should there be any amongst you who wish to donate prizes for the fighter auction, or who would like to act as auctioneers on the day, please send word to Her Excellency - all assistance shall be gratefully accepted.

And preparations shall proceed apace for what promises to be Aneala's most spectacular event of the year, when we host the coronation of the successors of Their Majesties, Berenger and Bethan. Once again, if you wish to contribute to the splendour of this occasion, Mistress Rhianwen would love to hear from you!

Yours in service,

Lachlahn — Baron

Jane — Baroness

From the Mid~Winter Coronation Steward

Greetings unto the peoples of Aneala, Abertridwr, Saint Basil's, Dragons Bay and Bosenberg.

Good Gentles, as most of you will have heard by now, I hope, Aneala is to play host to the King and Queen, Their Heirs and the rest of Lochac in July for the Coronation of the next King and Queen.

Further detail of this event are printed elsewhere in this publication. *

This missive is to ask for help from everyone in the months leading up to July.

I plan on running at least one workshop a month and probably more if there are spaces in the calendar. Also, I will have projects on the go, and if anyone has time they would be most welcome to drop in most days and give me a hand to achieve things.
The first workshop will be run on Saturday March 8th from 10.00am to 4.30/5.00pm, at the Bastion.
This still gives people time to get home and go onto Mistress Muirghein's if they so wish.

Let me say thank you in advance to you all for the help and support I know you will give, as you have not failed to give it before.

I look forward to seeing you and working with you all over the coming months.

If you have any questions please contact me on jo-ann@bigpond.net.au or 0408 099 346

In Service,
Rhianwen

* Chronicler's Note: See p 13

From the Chronicler

Greetings unto the peoples of Aneala.

Good gentles, I write to you on several topics this month

Firstly, Their Excellencies recently expressed to me their considerable dismay at the fact that none of the otherwise remarkable Populace of Aneala had recommended any other member of the Populace for an award this year.

Now, believe it or nor, one of the really fun things about being Baron & Baroness is giving out awards at Court. Beyond the simple pleasure at seeing people get recognition for their efforts, there's always the thrill of seeing recipients' faces when they realise that other people have seen and appreciated their efforts. But the B&B can't have this fun if there aren't any awards to give out, and there aren't any awards to give out if nobody makes any recommendations to the B&B!

"So", I hear you cry "how do I recommend someone?".

It's really quite easy. All you have to do is write to Their Excellencies at:

aneala@aneala.sca.org.au and tell them who you want to recommend, and what you think they should be recognised for. If you want, you can tell Their Excellencies what awards you think they should award, but you don't have to.

In case you were wondering, the major awards of the Barony of Aneala are:

Demi Sun - for service to the Barony
Golden Swan of Aneala - for contribution to the arts and sciences
Valiant Swans - for contribution to the fighting arts
Black Feather - for newcomers who jump in with both feet
Sun's Ray - for outstanding courtesy

Secondly, all Officers are supposed to have a Deputy, so that, should illness or calamity occur, the business of the Office can continue. Now, I did have Mistress Rhianwen as a drop-dead deputy. However, as you've hopefully noticed by now, she's much too busy working on the Lochac Coronation in July to possibly take back Chronicler, even temporarily.

So, I need a deputy. That means one of you.

What do you need to be Deputy Chronicler? You need to be prepared to take on the job of publishing The Vine if something happens to me. You will need to be a member, have access to suitable desktop publishing software (The Vine is currently produced on MS Publisher 2000) and you'll need to have access to a printing service. You'll need to be able to put in a small amount of time each month to produce The Vine. Oh, and you don't have to go to Baronial Council each month. (But it's good if you do.)

If being Chronicler of Aneala sounds interesting, please contact me at:

Dear Friend

On behalf of the St Vincent de Paul Society, I would like to offer my sincere thanks to Society for Creative Anachronism for your generous donation of toys for our 2007 Christmas Appeal.

Christmas was an extremely busy time for the Society and we were called upon more than ever to provide assistance to individuals and families who were struggling. Over 800 of our members and volunteers worked tirelessly in the weeks leading up to Christmas delivering food, clothing, household necessities and toys to thousands of West Australian homes. Without the help of organisations such as yours we would not have been able to respond to every genuine call for help we received.

Our financial Appeal for Christmas is still underway and we continue to be amazed at the generosity of the West Australian community and we hope by the end of January we will have reached our target of $500,000. This money will allow us to continue to provide emergency relief assistance throughout the year and support the many Special Works we undertake in the community.

Again, thank you for being a special part of our 2007 Christmas Appeal by assisting us to add hope, comfort and joy over Christmas to many West Australians who were in need.

Yours sincerely

G De Souza

Do you have any unused armour lying around?
Know someone who has armour gathering dust?
Or some leather or basket hilts you no longer need?

I'm looking for armour and other fighting equipment no longer being used to put together a few loaner suits so we can help our new and future fighters get into the action sooner, to enjoy the thrill of combat, the clash of arms, the braining of our mates and the exhilaration of inflicting pain upon others before they do it to us.

If you have anything lying around or can hassle someone into donating a piece or two, I'll be at Baronial training each Sunday (if maybe a little late) or I can be contacted on:

0405 570 885 or centurion@iinet.net.au

and we can arrange something

Thank you greatly for any assistance
