From the Baron & Baroness

Unto the populace of fair Aneala do Lachlahn and Jane send greetings .

As the stormclouds of war begin to disperse and we wait in hope for the safe return of His Excellency and our brave Anealan fighters to our home shores, the business of the Barony has been valiantly going forward despite the present dangers.

And in truth, we have much to look forward to. The Autumn Gathering fast approaches, at which Aneala and her near neighbours from Bosenberg and Dragon's Bay shall come together in fellowship to feast, trade, revel and demonstrate skill at arms. With the coming of the May, we shall be auctioning our fencers and armoured combatants in the Baroness's Fighter Auction, a day of noble feats performed for honour, glory and profit. As always, all donations for the prize table will be appreciatively accepted.

Following soon after the auction, the Canton of Abertridwr will be hosting Pencampwr gan Abertridwr, in which champions of combat and the arts and sciences shall be chosen, and at which there will be much revelry. It promises to be especially spectacular this year, as we have reason to believe their Majesties, Berengar and Bethan, shall be gracing us with their presence at this event.

And, as before, there is much activity within the Barony in preparation for Midwinter Coronation. Workshops are continuing for the making of banners and hall decorations, and sundry other items that will amply demonstrate Aneala's hospitality and display the talents of her populace.

Yours in service,

Lachlahn
Baron

Baroness

from the Minister for Arts & Sciences

Hi! I'm Mistress Branwen of Werekęsvordę your new Arts and Sciences Officer.

Many thanks to Baroness Cathrine who has done such a magnificent job, Their Excellencies expect great things from me, but after looking at all the accomplishments that have gone before me, all I can say is I'll give it a go. Cathrine you will be a hard act to follow.

I have asked Cathrine to continue having Dancing and Music sessions; Her Excellency is searching for a venue. If you know of a place please contact her.

Being a Member of the Order of Laurels makes people think that a Laurel 'knows all'. They don't. I was recognised for my abilities in Calligraphy and Illumination i.e. I can make pretty reasonable pictures and write well. No I'm not selling myself short, that's just what I love doing and have a passion for. My other passion is teaching it. I am not an expert in gallery making, silk painting, bead making, costume making, or other things etc but I'm not a bad cook and use to be a good dancer. At best I'm a dabbler. My other love besides my hubby is the SCĀ.

First Order of business is that I would like to meet up with the Guilds of Angala. Just to get to know you and maybe you might educate me. You'll find me a willing student.

Second, I need to know from everyone in general what they want. Tell me what you need me to help you with. Run classes on. Who would be prepared to share their expertise and perhaps their homes?

Thirdly, I would prefer to have A&S classes and meetings at a centrally located venue. Whilst homes are great, they can be a big imposition on the home owner. Please do not offer your home IF you feel uncomfortable about having loads of people buzzing around, including sometimes strangers new to the SCĀ. We can always have it at someone's place including my home though I live at Canning Vale and that is not centrally located. Did I mention we have a great reference library?

Lastly, I have asked Their Excellencies about what they think the Barony needs. Their reply was they would like a travelling box for the New Angala Coronets.

They also would like to be able to present to Their Majesties Angalean made gifts for their Stepping down in July. Gifts to the outgoing Royalty are a tradition. They are given to Their Majesties to say thanks from the populace for running the SCĀ during Their Reign, giving of Their time and most probably their money. As we are hosting the Coronation in Angala this time, we are the ones best suited to show this thanks. So we need gifts from the populace of Angala and if the other groups of the Western lands of Loehae wish to, they can add to ours or give separately. Not only does this show off our work but will also promote good will. Gifts should be small so TM can take them back on the plane.

Mistress Rhianwen is also looking for willing hands to help with the hall decorations etc, if you can spare an hour or two and come to any workshops or hold a workshop, your assistance would be greatly appreciated. Please contact her.

Arts and Sciences Competitions. The Loehae A&S Comps are listed elsewhere in The Vine. Since the Competition for Coronation will be held here how about entering? If you need guidance give me a call.

Yours in Service
Branwen

from the SCAA

From the SCAA:

NOTICE TO ALL GROUPS WITHIN LOCHAC (AUSTRALIA)

(This does not apply to New Zealand)

Recently the Federal Government and those in various States of Australia have been introducing stronger laws regarding harassment, discrimination and child protection. The OZIBOD is looking at how these new laws, in particular the Child Protection Laws, are going to affect the SCA and the Office of Minister for Children.

Making the task more difficult, each State has different laws, which have to be taken into account.

While the OZIBOD is evaluating the situation and formulating SCAA Policy we have to consider whether the Government would consider that our Pages School (MoC) is included in this following statement:

Sporting organisations have legal obligations in relation to harassment, discrimination and child protection. They also have moral obligations in relation to establishing standards of appropriate behaviour and in providing safe, respectful and appropriate sporting environments. Increasingly, insurance companies are also requiring comprehensive risk management plans that include policies and procedures for addressing harassment, discrimination and child protection.

www.ausport.gov.au/supporting/ethics/member\_protection/template (Version 4)

Currently, the Kingdom does not have a Kingdom Minister for Children and we are asking all local (groups, Baronies, Shires, Colleges), to suspend operation of local Pages Schools and Children's Officers until the legal and ethical ramifications have been sorted out.

We are aware that this will impact families and don't want to disadvantage their active participation in the SCA, so in the meantime, we encourage parents/legal guardians to organise activities for their children at events, and where any activities for minors occur, that at least one parent/guardian be with their own children at all times

If this is impossible, then two un-related adults need to share the organisation of the activity. At Festival for instance, any children's classes will need two un-related adults to be present for the whole class, and for all other activities, games, tournaments etc, one parent/guardian must be present with their child.

This issue is again on the Agenda for OZIBOD's April meeting and we ask for your patience as we look at the different options and their ramifications.

A suggestion has been put forward that we would like families to consider and that is that the Kingdom of Loehae remove the Office of Minister for Children and that the parents of Loehae form and run a Parents Guild, taking on the entertainment, education and activities for their children with the support of other parents. It would have a similar structure to other Guilds within the Kingdom, such as the Chirurgeonate, Broiderers Guild, etc.

We realise a lot of folk are flat out preparing for Festival, but ask that if this affects you or your family, that you think about it and forward your comments on this suggestion – or any other suggestions you may have to the OZIBOD at committee@sca.org.au.

from the Cooks Guild

SinS - Anzala Cooks Guild Challenge. (Sip it'n See)

Cook's guild sets a recipe each month as a challenge. We bring our trials and tribulations along to the next meeting and have a taste test. Even if you don't come to the meeting you can always bring it to an event and get it signed off for your Guild Progress. Want to host a SinS meeting? Contact Master Kilie.

Oldie but goodie:

Tart de Bry

Take a crust ynehe depe in a trap. Take zolkes of ayren rawe & chese ruayn & medle it & pe zolkes togyder. Do perto powdour ginger, sugar, safroun, and salt. Do it in a trap; bake it & serve it forth.

A little help with the translation? Always read out loud, you'll be surprised how much sense it makes. 'crust' 'trap' = pastry shell, 'ruayn chese' = soft cheese, 'medle' = bind, mix, 'powdour' = ground

Only make a small quantity, this is a trial not a feast. Write down all your measurements, quantities, ingredients and substitutions. The pastry can be commercially prepared if you want.

Regarding the Autumn Gathering

Good greetings and indeed many such greetings to those who populate more than one of these lists,

The Autumn Gathering on the Anzac long weekend fast approaches and with it the opportunity to test or perhaps explore your Seadian skill at arms.

On the first day of the Tournament being the 25th day of April, you are freely invited to contest the field in the first Autumn Champion List of these shores, and by your own strength of arms lay claim to the right to lay the consort's wreath upon the brow of the person who inspires you to such greatness and let those present bear fair witness to how you honour them above all others by your deeds, actions and accomplishments.

For those who may not gain the final victory then I say, lend your deeds to the honouring of your consort in the display of such a trial at arms as make of this tourney and all in it a shining example of all that is noble in the pursuit of renown. While there may only be one who may claim the final victory each of us who fights wins renown by the display of noble deeds, good humour and with ever the exchange of fair blows honestly struck and honestly received.

On the second day of the Tournament being the 26th day of April, there will be open the Fields of War to those who would show their skills at arms and battle sense amongst the company of the truest warriors who brave the cleaving of blades and the piercing of arrows to make battle. Seek renown on the field, honour your consort and fight gallantly under the proudly flying banners you hold most dear in a meeting of courage, skill, valour and the judging of her named fortune by some.

Let not indolence or meanness of spirit leave you without memories of these days, and join those who will be able to say "I too fought at the first Autumn Gathering", for this chance to stand amongst the first who go this way will never come again in this manner and be ever a gloomy memory for those who journey not.

Seek here for further information on this auspicious occasion of which I speak;

Wanted

Any Old Armour ... (New is also acceptable)

Do you have any unused armour lying around?
Know someone who has armour gathering dust?
Or some leather or basket hilts you no longer need?

I'm looking for armour and other fighting equipment no longer being used to put together a few loaner suits so we can help our new and future fighters get into the action sooner, to enjoy the thrill of combat, the clash of arms, the braining of our mates and the exhilaration of inflicting pain upon others before they do it to us.

If you have anything lying around or can hassle someone into donating a piece or two, I'll be at Baronial training each Sunday (if maybe a little late) or I can be contacted on:

0405 570 885 or centurion@iinet.net.au

and we can arrange something

Thank you greatly for any assistance
Conan
