Baronial Missive

From Dameon and Leonie, Baron and Baroness of Aneala, to the populace of Aneala, greetings.

We hope that you all enjoyed the Christmas and New Year break, and are happily launched into 2015.

Last weekend we attended the Midsummer feast, and enjoyed playing Oberon and Titania in part of Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream> Thank you to the Bard of Aneala, for directing the play, and to her and Seamus and their team for the whole event. During court we presented Lady Slaine with a Baronial Cypher, for the work she has put into organising the financial upgrade to Lochac's corporate (mundane) half. She and her team, especially Lady Mery and Lady Lucia in Aneala, have put in an incredible amount of work to save the SCA from disaster. Lady Slaine also presented illuminated thank you notes to the reeves of the western shores, and has arranged for similar notes to be presented to all of Lochac's reeves in their several groups.

Mistress Branwen has stepped up as the Lochac Provost of Scribes. In Midsummer's court, she presented tassels to the Anealan Scribes who, having participated in the Lochac scribal challenge last year, won the competition for most scrolls completed with a final tally of twenty one. Well done everyone.

Mistress Catherine d'Arc has stepped up as Aneala's A&S officer, with many ideas for workshops and competitions. The first workshop is next weekend, to make a small book, and also to help produce tokens for Autumn gathering. See the populace email list for details. We will also be replacing the Anealan champions' regalia, and any help with sewing will be appreciated there.

In March, Aneala will be involved with two demos. The first is on the long weekend, the Hyde Park fair, which will run over two days. The Fair will have a medieval theme, so is well-suited to us, and we hope we will be able to attract much interest and some new members. The steward for this is Baron Dameon.

The following weekend there will be demo at Eaton, just north of Bunbury, and the steward will be Lady Lucia. More details will be sent out on the populace list, but please keep the dates in mind and come along to help if you can.

Don't forget to send in your recommendations for awards. If you think that someone deserves recognition for hard work and service to the Barony, or for their skills in the arts and sciences or martial endeavours, please let us know (preferably by email).

Next weekend we hope to see many of you on the Duyfkyn

Until next month

Yours in service to the Crown and the people of Aneala

Dameon and Leonie

From the College of St Basil the Great

The Seneschal of the College of St Basil would like it to be known that insurance for activities at College training currently does not cover non-UWA students. Steps to correct this are underway and this lack of cover should be resolved over the next few months.

Please note the change in dates and times for College training, The site is still the Oak Lawn from 5pm to 7pm. Armoured combat training is on Wednesday evenings and rapier training on Thursday evenings

Also if anyone would like to purchase cheap leather from the College, please contact Jacques via email at: 21123257@student.uwa.edu.au
