From Leonie, Baroness of Aneala, to the populace of Aneala, greetings.

As I sit down to write this missive, Baron Dameon is on his way to the Pennsic War, where he will join their Majesties Steffan and Branwen and many other citizens of Lochac in the annual invasion of Pennsylvania. I am sure he will have a wonderful time, and have many tales to tell on his return.

Last weekend, we both attended Aneala's Midwinter celebration, Return of the King. It was a lovely event, made more exciting for the steward when St Matthews Church Hall found themselves double booked and cancelled our booking with less than two weeks to go. At the changed venue however, great food, great company and great dancing was enjoyed by all. Thanks to the steward Sir Nathan Blacktower, and the kitchen team headed by Lady Skjalddis Bragadóttir for running an excellent event. Congratulations to Lady Elizabeth Severn, our reeve, for becoming the newest member of the Order of the Demi Sun, and to Lady Isolde van Wilravenssijde for winning the courtly garb competition.

Coming up in the calendar this month are two events. Firstly, the Golden Thimble Competition on August 19 and 20, at the Riverton Scout Hall Ferndale Reserve, Metcalfe Rd, Ferndale. Contact the steward, Mistress Branwen, at bakerskeep@antiferus.net for further details and to register your team.

Then the following weekend, 26-27 August, we have the Bal d'Aneala and the Baroness's Fighter Auction. This weekend brings a Royal visit, so don't forget to send recommendations for Kingdom awards to their Majesties

The Bal will be held at Corinthian Park Hall, corner of Beatrice Avenue & Leach Highway Shelley. Steward for the Bal is Lady Jacqueline of St Basil, with bookings through. Don't forget that the Bal d'Aneala is the event at which the Bard of Aneala is chosen, so get your performance pieces ready - music, poetry, story-telling, dancing and other forms of entertainment. There will also be the usual competition for garb in Anealan colours.

Lady Elizabeth Rowe is organising dance classes for all those who wish to practice their steps or learn new dances. Look out for notification of times and places.

Steward for the Baroness's Fighter Auction is of course me and the venue will be Hyde Park near the corner of Vincent and William Street, Perth. We will be running a secret auction, because the King intends to fight and I want everyone to have a chance to have him fight for them. Fighters will be "identified" by a coat of arms not their own, so each must prepare a list shield with a device which might be clever, inspiring, or designed to confuse.

Late September brings the Anealan Championship Weekend, at Ern Halliday Recreation Camp. The Steward is Lady Renonys and the theme of the event is "Live the Dream". An invitation to us all to leave mundanity behind, maximise the period look of our camping, our gear and equipment, to sing beside the camp fire, and feast with friends, all while choosing the next Baronial Champions in Armoured and Rapier Combat, in Archery and in the Arts and Sciences.

Complete details of all these events are posted to the Announce and Populace email lists, the Baronial website, and on Facebook.

In other news, thank you Lord Agostino Valentino for stepping up as Aneala's Knight Marshal. However, he needs deputies: both the Rapier Marshal and the Captain of Archers posts are still vacant and need filling urgently.

Until next time
Yours in Service

Leonie
Baroness of Aneala
